

How do I prepare my child academically and/or financially for college?

You can help your child make informed decisions about his or her college education.

Find helpful information to prepare your child for college

There are many federal, state, and private educational savings programs. Educational IRA's, prepaid tuition plans, savings bonds and trust plans are just a few of the many ways to prepare for your child's educational expenses. In addition, legislation was recently passed for the 529 savings plan which is now available in all 50 states.

Find more information regarding these and other educational savings plans